Everything that we Ukrainians feel now is normal.

Every emotion has meaning and is important.

Important for acceptance,
stabilization, life.

- Some of us feel anger, disgust, hatred.

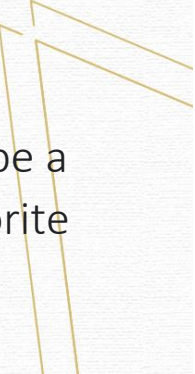

Help: volunteer work, or physical activity, or just writing.

- I don't feel much, I can't concentrate.

Help: start taking care of your mental health. Or Overload yourself. No free time.

- And the last is a feeling of devastation.

Help: learning to find points of support. It can be a walk, breathing exercises, communication, favorite activities.

War is not normal. Every reaction to war is normal. It's just worth being around. And I walk this path with my people.

Thanks!
